

Please do something about the harrassing calls that we receive each and every day from telemarketers. My time at home is precious and private. I do not want it invaded. If I want to purchase anything, I will either go out and buy it or order it.

Thank you very much for your help in this matter.